

Copyright Transfer Form

Authors are requested to read the following rules of the workshop, and return the signed agreement form together with their manuscript no later than October 11, 2002 to Prof. Katsushi Ikeuchi at the address above.

- I. Copyright of the author's article is automatically transferred to the IAPR MVA Organizing Committee (hereinafter, the committee) when the article is published in the proceedings by the committee. In case any portion of the article, including figures/photos or tables, has been reproduced from another copyrighted source, the author is responsible for gaining permission in advance from the copyright holder.
- II. All proprietary rights concerning the article other than the copyright, such as the patent rights, are retained by the author(s). The author(s) may reuse, without notification to the committee, all or portions of the article in other work, when the source is clearly indicated. The author(s) can also reproduce the article for personal use provided that the copies are not offered for sale.
- III. When the author signs the copyright transfer form, the committee assumes that the author's employer has also consented to all of the terms and conditions of this form.
- IV. For jointly authored papers, only one signature is required, but the committee assumes that all authors have been advised of, and have consented to, the terms of this form.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

IAPR MVA Organizing Committee
